What is claimed is:

1.   A digital electronic pen with the capabilities to recognize or pronunciation printed text to a verbal response.

2.   The digital pen claims to do spell check operations by means of user verbal interactions.

3.   The digital pen claims to be able to take a simple math problem in structure and calculate, to provide an answer. See Fig. 7.